

Ocean Exploration Celebration: Free Public Ship Tours

Come celebrate ocean exploration with us! We invite you to a very special opportunity to come tour two of the most technologically advanced research and exploration vessels in the world. Both Schmidt Ocean Institute's R/V Falkor and NOAA Ship Okeanos Explorer will be docked in Honolulu, celebrating recent exploration activities and preparing for upcoming expeditions. Come see how science is done, hear scientists' first hand account of working on board, and learn about research completed in Pacific waters.

Dockside Education Pavilion will feature interactive exhibits from University of Hawaii scientists, staff from NOAA and Schmidt Ocean Institute, and other exhibitors.

Sunday, October 1, 2017

Tours begin at 10 am, last tour at 3:30 pm
UH Marine Center - Pier 35 - Honolulu, Hawaii

Photo ID required - Closed toe shoes required
Ability to walk down steep staircases necessary
Bags will not be permitted on the ships